“We are pleased to report our 2018 half yearly results. Letšeng’s improved recoveries combined with the discovery and subsequent sale of the Lesotho Legend has generated a strong set of results. Letšeng produced a record number of diamonds greater than 100 carats for any six-month period in the mine’s history reaffirming the exceptional and unique quality of Letšeng. Subsequent to June, two further diamonds larger than 100 carats have been recovered, with the latest in August marking the twelfth such recovery for the year. This now positions 2018 as a record for recoveries of diamonds greater than 100 carats in a single year.

The market for Letšeng’s high-quality diamonds has remained robust, with an average price achieved of US$2.742* per carat during the Period, up 54% compared to H1 2017 of US$1.779*.

It is also pleasing to report on the progress of the Business Transformation. This has already seen initiatives achieved in revenue, productivity improvements and cost savings to the value of US$47 million of the 2021 US$100 million target.”
